Presenting

Accentuate the Positive: Bringing Out the Best in Our Kids

When we look at the long-term goals we have for students in the school system, they go beyond the isolated short-term goal of passing a state mandated test. Research clearly indicates what youth need to be successful in school and afterwards. This interactive session will feature this information, as well as ways to encourage healthy development at all levels.

Note: There will be 6 Breakout Sessions following the keynote.
